County Has 2 More Paralysis Cases

Two additional infantile paralysis cases were reported in Montgomery County yesterday, bringing the total to 35, according to the office of District Medical Director Dr. Thomas M. Thompson today.

In Pennsylvania the epidemic affected 55 of the 67 counties as the State Health Department received reports of 50 new cases, bringing the official total to 708 persons infected since Jan. 1. Cumberland, Venango and Wayne Counties each reported their first case.

Ask For Blankets

The Red Cross is asking for old worn wool blankets and old rubberized shower curtains to be used in the Kenny treatment for infantile paralysis by Public Health Nurses who have been trained to give this treatment. Bring blankets and curtains to the Red Cross Motor Corps, Red Cross Center, Ardmore.

Change Approved For Polling Place

3rd District Will Be Moved to Gymnasium Of Church

Voters of Narberth's Third District will mark their ballots in a new polling place, the gymnasium of the Baptist Church of the Evangelist, at the presidential election in November.

The County Board of Elections has approved a petition of several residents of the "South Side" constituting Narberth's third election district asking that the polling place be changed from the Scout House to the church gymnasium. A public hearing was held at which no one appeared in opposition to the change.

The Scout House, formerly the real estate office of the late John Caldwell has served as the polling place in the district for about 25 years. Over time it has been divided into three election districts.

The move to the Church gymnasium was the outcome of a desire on the part of several citizens, political workers of both parties and members of the local election board to obtain more adequate and suitable quarters. They pointed out that the Scout House was damp, had no heat, became filled with obnoxious fumes from the kerosene stoves used to heat the building and had no water or toilet facilities. Space for voters also was inadequate, they pointed out, at rush hours in the late afternoon.

The Baptist Church agreed to the use of its gymnasium, a large spacious room with the entrance directly off Elmwood Avenue and a poll was taken of the electors of the district to learn their opinion. Only 17 persons voted in opposition to the proposed change and 167 indicated their approval. A petition was then circulated and presented to the County Board of Elections which has now approved the change.

With Ernie Pyle at the Front Trapped Eight Days in Plane, British Ace Lives And Grins

One Of the American Soldiers Said: 'God But These Limies Have Got Guts'

By ERNIE PYLE

ON THE WESTERN FRONT.—When you're wandering around our very far-flung front lines—the lines that in our present rapid war are known as "fluid"—you can always tell how recently the battle has swept on ahead of you.

You can sense it from the little things even more than the big things.

From the scattered green leaves and the fresh branches of trees still lying in the middle of the road.

From the wisps and coils of telephone wire, hanging brokenly from high poles and entwining across the roads.

From the gray, burned-powder rims of the shell craters in the gravel roads, their edges not yet smoothed by the pounding of military traffic.

From the little pools of blood on the roadside, blood that has only begun to congeal and turn black, and the punctured steel helmets nearby.

From the square blocks of building stone still scattered in the village streets, and from the sharp-edged rocks in the roads, still uncrushed by traffic.

From the burned-out tanks and broken carts still unrecovered from the road. From the cows in the fields, lying grotesquely with their feet to the sky, so newly dead they have not begun to bloat or smell.

From the scattered heaps of personal debris around a gun. I don't know why it is, but the Germans always seem to take off their coats before they flee or die.

From all these things you can tell that the battle has been recent—from these and from the men dead so recently that they seem to be merely asleep.

And also from the inhuman quiet. Usually battles are noisy for miles around. But in this recent far warfare a battle sometimes leaves a complete vacuum behind it.

The Germans will stand and fight it out until they see there is no hope. Then some give up, and the rest pull and run for miles. Shooting stops. Our fighters move on after the enemy, and those who do not fight, but move in the wake of the battles, will not catch up for hours.

There is nothing left behind but the remains—the lifeless debris, the sunshine and the flowers, and utter silence. An amateur who wanders in this vacuum at the rear of a battle has a terrible sense of loneliness. Everything is dead—the men, the machines, the animals—and you alone are left alive.

One afternoon we drove in our jeep into a country like that. The little rural villages of gray stone were demolished—heart-breaking heaps of still smoking rubble.

We drove into the tiny town of La Detinais, a sweet old stone village at the "T" of two gravel roads, a rural village in rolling country, a village of not more than 50 buildings. There was not a whole building left.

Rubble and broken wires still littered the streets. Blackish graystone walls with no roofs still smoldered inside. Dead men still lay in the street, helmets and broken rifles askew around them. There was not a soul nor a sound in town; the village was lifeless.

As we stood there talking in the lonely field a soldier in coveralls, with a rifle slung over his shoulder, ran up breathlessly, and almost shouted:

"Hey, there's a man alive in one of those planes across the road! He's been trapped there for days!"

We stopped right in the middle of a sentence and began to run. We hopped the hedge, and ducked under the wing of the upside-down plane. And there, in the next hour, came the climax of what certainly was one of the really great demonstrations of courage in this war.

We ran to the wrecked British plane, lying there upside down. Continued on Page Four

Boys' Club Launches All-Out Scrap Drive

Print Circulars Urging All Residents To Save Waste Material; First Collection Will Be Made September 23; Seek 75 Tons of Scrap

The Narberth Boys Club—130 members strong—will swing into action before long to help put Pennsylvania's salvage drive over the top.

Charles Osmer, chairman of the club's Salvage Committee, announced this week that the first collection of scrap salvage will be made in Narberth on September 23.

Osmer has had circulars printed and delivered to each house in the borough, explaining the need for scrap material and the part which the club would play in the drive.

Every type of scrap will be collected—paper, magazines, old rubber, old metal, old clothing.

During the six-weeks drive which opens today, there will be two borough-wide collections, the first on the 23rd, the second on the 27th. The club has set its goal at 100 pounds per house, which will net about 75 tons of scrap, and the organization is geared to reach that goal.

Grant Charter To Form Fire Co.

Gladwyne Committee Now Ready To Raise Funds

Gladwyne received a charter this week to form a non-profit organization to be known as the Gladwyne Fire Company.

Application for the charter was approved by the Montgomery County Court. The charter was delivered to John Russell, Jr., attorney for the group organizing the fire company.

As outlined in the application the purpose in obtaining the charter was to support and maintain equipment for the control of fire and for the protection of life and limb loss by fire, and in furtherance of such ends to everything and anything necessary, suitable, proper, convenient and incident to the aforesaid purposes under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Members of the organization committee will now solicit funds. A number of residents have already signified their intentions of backing the movement.

At present the Gladwyne fire fighters are members of a branch of the Merion Fire Company of Ardmore. Approval and backing for the organization of a separate company has been given by the Merion Fire Company and by Evan L. James, manager of Lower Merion Township.

Stuart Bell was chairman of the committee called several months ago to organize the fire company. The new company, according to Bell, is needed to assure residents of adequate fire protection.

Foster and Althouse Win Honors At Colonial Village

Dudley Foster, Stratford, won the 12-inch swim gold president's cup at the Colonial Village Swimming Pool on Monday.

To win he nosed out Richard Beamish, Wynnewood, with 88 to 83 points.

The trophy gave Foster individual high swimming honors for the Summer. Foster also holds the 100 yards swimming record at the club.

The trophy is a replica of a swimmer mounted on a pedestal. A similar trophy for individual improvement went to Mary Anne Althouse.

The trophies were awarded Monday after the swimming meet by James Cowland secretary and one of the owners of the club.

Richard Mattis, Lower Merion High School football coach, was manager at the swimming pool this Summer.

Nearly 100 boys and girls participated in the swimming races and exhibits held this Summer at Colonial Village Pool.

40 Years Service

PHILIP C. STAPLES

Rounds Out 40 Yrs. In Bell Telephone Company President Started As $12-a-Week Salesman

Philip C. Staples, of Ardmore, president of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, rounded out 40 years in the telephone business last Tuesday.

For the last eleven years he has headed one of the largest telephone operating companies, which serves 1,600,000 telephones and has 21,000 employees.

Like other Bell System executives, Staples started at the bottom, as a $12-a-week salesman for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company in Baltimore.

This was on September 5, 1904, less than three months after his graduation from Harvard University.

He came to the Pennsylvania company in 1909 as a chief clerk. By 1919 he had risen to the post of assistant to the president and was named vice-president in charge of operations in 1927 and president on April 1, 1933.

In addition to his telephone work, Staples has taken a great interest in civic and charitable work, especially in Philadelphia and on the Main Line. He was executive manager of the 1931 United Campaign which raised more than $10,000,000 for welfare and unemployment relief and was president of the Philadelphia County Emergency Relief Board.

He is a former chairman of the planning committee of Lower Merion Township and also a former president of the Police Pension Fund of Lower Merion Township. He is a member of the Merion Cricket Club and the Merion Golf Club.

The telephone company president is married and lives at 121 Edgewood Road, Ardmore. He has two sons, Captain Philip C. Staples, Jr., and Lieutenant John H. Staples, both now serving in the European war theatre.

Stu Young Only Regular Among Eight Lettermen Available For Lower Merion Grid Team

Proud and mighty ruler of the Big Six for the past three years and undefeated and untied last season, Lower Merion High School very definitely will be on the spot when the 1944 football campaign gets underway two weeks hence.

Gone from last year's powerful club are all but one regular and rival schools are gleefully looking forward to pushing the Maroon off its throne. True, Lower Merion's prospects aren't as bright as they were in recent years, but neither are they as dismal as some, including head coach Dick Mattis, would have you believe.

Stu Young, 175-pound guard and last of the famous Young family which produced former great linemen in brothers Jack and Lou, Jr., is the lone regular from the 1943 starting eleven, but there are seven other lettermen available and at least ten other experienced holdovers from the varsity squad. Thus it is not unreasonable to expect an L. M. team that will be able to hold its own with most of its nine rivals.

Tackles Harry Nelson and Paul Kuntz; center Al Wilson; end Bill West, and backs Phil Maroney, Carlo Mariani and Perry Scott together with Young are the nucleus of the new team.

Among the returning varsity squad members who received some baptism of fire in substitute roles are Fred Raker, end; James Fleck, Vince Cirilli, Galev Chandler and Jack O'Donnell, tackles.

Kindhearted Cops Get Roughed Up In Cafe Scuffle

The next time Lower Merion police make an arrest, the Army won't have a chance to finish its drink.

Pvt. Matthew J. Love, 27, on leave from Ft. Meade, Md., agreed to go quietly when Detective Harry Gross tapped him on the shoulder Saturday night at Taylor's Cafe in Bryn Mawr. All he wanted to do was to finish his drink. Suddenly Love bolted for the back door only to land in the arms of Detective Joseph Kelley. A scuffle followed and the 50 patrons of the cafe milled about trying to help Love escape.

From the melee the two detectives emerged with bumps and bruises. Love escaped and four patrons were arrested and fined on charges of disorderly conduct.

Love arrested later in Haverford Township, was first treated at the Bryn Mawr Hospital for head injuries and then taken to the police station where he has since charge in connection with the ownership of a garage.

Township Clearing 451 Vacant Lots

Rats, Mosquitoes And Other Annoyances Flee With Weeds

The Lower Merion Board of Health this week is completing its semi-annual clearing of vacant lots in the township.

In accordance with a township ordinance, all vacant lots are inspected and the owners ordered to clear them of weeds. If the order is not complied with in five days, the work is done by the Township Highway Department, and the property owner is billed for the work.

This year, the department did the work on about 400 of the 451 lots inspected since Aug. 1.

Purpose of the weed campaign is twofold: to protect the owner from having his property used as a rubbish dump—for some reason a cleared field is seldom so abused—and to protect all residents from the numerous annoyances bred in the weeds—rats, poison ivy, ragweed and mosquitoes. The mosquitoes breed primarily in rain-filled tin cans where vacant lots have been covered with refuse.

In the farm areas of Gladwyne and Villanova, fields only need be cleared a distance of 100 feet on each side of the road or 100 feet within 100 feet of each residence.

History appears to be repeating for the third straight year in the Main Line Baseball League. Narberth has again qualified for the championship five game series and barring a miracle Manoa will again be its opponent.

Manoa holds a 2-0 lead in its semi-final series with Brookline and needs only a victory over the Hares at Veterans Park, Darby and Manoa Rds., Brookline, on Sunday to earn the right to challenge Gene Davis' tossers for the pennant.

Five Polio Cases In Lower Merion

Two Light Cases Now in Bryn Mawr; Schools Open

With five cases of infantile paralysis in Lower Merion Township, two of them newly reported on Tuesday, health officials were "keeping their fingers crossed" this week and hoping that there would be no further increase before the polio peak is reached—usually about September 15.

The two new cases were Margaret and Edward E. Gardiner, 16 and 14, respectively, children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Gardiner, 435 Garden Lane, Bryn Mawr. Both returned on August 23 from camps in Vermont, where they had spent the summer. The children were taken together until their arrival home and apparently had picked up the infection independently of each other. Both have light cases with no paralysis and are under treatment at their own homes.

A suspected case, Phyllis Evans, 16, of Gladwyne, was reported not infantile paralysis. Previously the hockey camp in the Poconos where she and 75 other girls from Philadelphia private schools had been staying was quarantined and the guests restrained from going home except by permission of their local boards of health.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Health of Lower Merion Township next Monday night the infantile paralysis outbreak will be discussed and a decision based on the number of cases reported, will be made concerning the schools of the township. At present, all have opened on schedule.

A terrific home run by outfielder Manny Meno turned out to be Manoa's winning blow. With two on base, Meno became the first player to smash the ball over the left field fence on the fly. It was a grand slam. Manoa's five run fifth inning. Incidentally, the five runs were made on four hits and an error. A base on balls, an error and Joe Reilly's single accounted for Manoa's extra run in the seventh.

Singles by Umbach and Charley Spellman gave Brookline a run in the fifth and in the ninth a single by Bogash, a home run by Wayne Jensen, and a sacrifice, a double by Umbach and an infield out netted the Hares three additional runs.

Jim Craig never had much leeway in his battle with Zetuskus but before he was ahead in winning his ninth straight playoff game without a defeat since entering the league last year, Craig actually won his own game, opening the fifth inning with a single, advancing on a sacrifice, and Chuckman's single and scoring his team's second run when Boyle forced Shuckman at second.

Narberth scored in the first inning on an error. Shuckman's single, a base on balls, and Buddy Walker's outfield fly. Bartram didn't get its lone run until the eighth.

CAMERAGRAPH

COMEDIAN - AUTHOR - PHILANTHROPIST—Bob Hope, preparing for another tour to the combat zones for USO Camp Shows, has agreed to turn over all royalties from his new book, "I Never Left Home" to the National War Fund, which finances nineteen war-related agencies, including USO and War Prisoners Aid. Above, Bob Hope assigned autographs for G.I.'s and officers at a base in England.

THIS COAL MINER is checking off a few of the vital war materials produced from bituminous coal. Steel for bombs, shells, tanks, battletanks, airplanes, army trucks, require processed bituminous coal for a base as well as 85% of the plastics used in bomber noses, gas masks, radio apparatus, propellers and life rafts. Sulfur and other drugs, by-products from bituminous coal, are saving the lives of thousands of American men overseas. United States supply of this bituminous coal is sufficient for the next 3,000 years.

5 Regulars Among Candidates
For Haverford High Grid Team,
Coach Bill Stinson Is Optimistic

Five regulars and two others... the swivel-hipped youth who became the Ford's leading ground rainer late in the 1943 season; Captain Jack Hancock, capable 170-pound tackle; Bobby Baum, little, light but tough quarterback; aggressive Jack Gilligan, center; and Ken Barrett, an end who showed great promise last year.

Jack Roy, a halfback who goes 155 pounds, saw considerable action last year, but missed winning a letter because of a midseason injury. Bob McCausland, 155-pound end, also gained considerable experience as an understudy.

Stinson apparently won't have much trouble putting together a backfield. The early drills have indicated that Venuti, Baum, Roy and Lawson Cording, who was outstanding on Alle Cornog's javelin team, are out in front for starting positions. Ned Agnew, Charles Bray, Jim Hess and Ned Brownlee, all up from the jayvees, are other standout backfield candidates.

Jayvee talent, available for the line includes Ernie Prudente, 170-pound end; Bob Johnston, Walt Glover and Snyder, tackles; Dudley Havelin and Kim Billings, guards; and Jack Holcombe, center. Outstanding candidates up from the junior high to date are Tony Cioti and Claude Gabriel, guards; and Smith, a center.

Coach Stinson has decided not to do any experimenting with the T formation, instead will concentrate on the single wing setup that proved so effective after the Lower Merion game last year. Practice scrimmages have been arranged with Swarthmore High on Sept. 15 and with Episcopal Academy on Sept. 19. Both will be staged at Gray's home. An additional scrimmage with another school most likely will be listed for the home field before the opening game with Abington, Saturday, Sept. 23.

Lesson-Sermon

"Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 10. The Golden Text is: "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favour rather than silver and gold" (Proverbs 22:1).

Among Bible citations comprising the Lesson-Sermon is the following: "Bless the Lord, O my soul. O Lord my God, thou art very great; thou art clothed with honour and majesty. O Lord, how manifold are they works! In wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches. The glory of the Lord shall endure for ever: the Lord shall rejoice in his works" (Psalms 104:1, 24, 31).

New Route 'K' Bala-Cynwyd Bus
Schedule Effective on September 9Neighborhood Club Urged Fight For Nearly A Year to Obtain Change; Will Restore
Half of Pre-War Service.

The Bala-Cynwyd Neighborhood Club this week won its nearly-a-year-old fight for a more frequent bus schedule on Route K of the Red Arrow Lines.

The bus line, operating between Manayunk and 54th and City Line, serves Bala-Cynwyd communities.

Inaugurated by the public service committee of the Neighborhood Club the campaign for better bus accommodations led first to Red Arrow officials and then to the Philadelphia district officials of OPA and ODT (Office of Defense Transportation).

Shortly after war was declared the schedule was drastically cut with only four trips in the morning and four in the afternoon. The new schedule, which becomes effective September 9, will restore about half of the schedule in effect before the war. For the Red Arrow lines it will mean about a 50 per cent increase in mileage.

Notice that the new schedule had been approved was received last Thursday by Henry J. Kite, president of the Neighborhood Club, from A. H. Jones, vice-president of the Red Arrow Lines. It was Kite and Alec H. Holcombe, Jr., chairman of the public service committee, who prepared the revised schedule.

Residents of Cynwyd Estates and Cynwyd Circle will be among the greatest beneficiaries.

Red Arrow officials said in the beginning they would make the change providing additional mileage was allowed by the ODT. One of the Neighborhood Club's primary objectives was to have the bus make regular stops at the Cynwyd Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which is at Bala and Montgomery Aves.

Operating under the present schedule the buses will now meet most of the heavy traffic trains. The southbound route, starting from Green Lane and Main Street, Manayunk, is as follows:

Green Lane, Belmont Ave., Jefferson St., Ashland Ave., Springfield Ave., Washington Ave., Ashland Ave., Mary Waters Ford Rd., Conshohocken State Rd., Bala Ave., City Line Ave., Old Lancaster Rd., Edgemoor Rd., Orchard Rd., and City Line Ave. to 54th St.

The northbound route, starting from 54th St. and City Line Ave., Merion, is as follows:

City Line Ave., Bala Ave., Conshohocken State Rd., Mary Waters Ford Rd., Ashland Ave., Washington Ave., Springfield Ave., Ashland Ave., Jefferson St., Belmont Ave., Green Lane, Main St., Levering St., Cresson St., to Green Lane.

"Sorry, but your laundry won't be delivered until tomorrow"

There's no dodging the fact that laundry service isn't as good today as before Pearl Harbor. In fact, it's a miracle that it can be as good as it is. Our plant is jammed with work because we are handling more than normal and we are terribly short-handed—we, too, have a service flag with many stars, and it is just about impossible to get new help that can quickly learn to wash, finish and deliver your laundry as you like it, and as we like to give it to you. These conditions just naturally cause delays in deliveries, which we hope do not cause any great inconvenience. We appreciate the understanding and patience of all our customers.

"Yeah.. But who wants to be President?"

When Mickey balked at doing his homework, his dad reminded him that Abe Lincoln studied by the light of the fire in pursuit of learning that later made it possible for him to become President. "Yeah," is Mickey's classic remark, "but who wants to be President? There's no future to it." However, whether Mickey wants to be President or not, in all probability he will still have his homework to do. Why not make it easier for him? In contrast with Lincoln's obstacle of poor lighting conditions, Mickey should be enjoying the glare-free, easy-seeing light of a scientifically designed study lamp. True enough, you may be unable to buy one right now, but put it on your list for post-war buying. Remember! Easy seeing makes for easier studying.

Rules For Mailing Christmas Gifts to Servicemen Overseas

In order to allow sufficient time for the gigantic job of handling the Christmas mails for the overseas Army Personnel between September 15 and October 15, 1944, it is of the utmost importance that these dates be observed and the Post Office Department and the War Department have therefore joined in requesting the public to cooperate in this matter.

Christmas packages may be mailed during this period of September 15 to October 15 without presentation of a request from the service men. Christmas cards may be mailed at any time, but will be delivered by surface ships, which means that to reach the more distant theatres mailing must be prior to October 15. They must be sent in sealed envelopes and prepaid as first class mail.

Christmas gift packages must be within the present limitations of five pounds in weight, 15 inches in length and 36 inches in length and girth combined. They must be indorsed "Christmas Parcel". Only one such package will be accepted for mailing from the same person or concern to the same addressee during any one week.

All articles must be packed in boxes of metal, wood, solid fiberboard or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard and tied with strong twine. All fiberboard boxes should be securely wrapped in heavy paper, if possible, because experience has shown that boxes without an outer wrapper often become crushed or split, allowing the contents to escape.

Contents should be tightly packed in order that the articles will not become loosened in transit. Hard candies, nuts, caramels (including those covered with chocolate), fruit cake and chocolate bars individually wrapped in waxed paper, should be enclosed in inner boxes of wood, metal or cardboard. Soft candies, whether homemade or commercial, do not carry well and should not be mailed. Sharp pointed or sharp-edged instruments, such as razors and knives, must have their points or edges protected so they cannot cut through their coverings and damage other mail or injure postal employees.

Perishables, intoxicants, inflammable materials (including matches and lighter fluids) and poisons are unmailable. The mailing of fragile articles is discouraged. The Government also points out that members of the armed forces are amply provided with food and clothing, and the public is urged not to include such in gift parcels.

HELPS DAD GET NEW FELT HAT

The Office of Price Administration considered the problems attendant upon the production of dad's new fedora and has come up with a solution: A new price regulation covering Australian and New Zealand rabbit skins and hatters' fur cut from these imported skins, has been issued by OPA. Recently, sellers of hatters' fur have been forced to curtail their sales and production because of the abnormally high prices in the foreign market for rabbit skins. While the new hatters' fur prices do not lower the general level of hatters' fur prices previously in effect, hat manufacturers will be able to buy raw skins at lower prices or to buy a larger percentage of their requirements of hatters' fur from cutters at the March 1942 level of selling prices.

118-POUND HAMMER FORGER IS CHAMP

The champion forger at a Chester, Pa., chain and forge plant is a 70-year-old man who weighs 118 pounds. This man is making records in open hammer forging, one of the heaviest of operations. Frell men and women are doing good work in foundries, particularly where little or no brawn is required—and they are sticking to their jobs, the War Manpower Commission reports. More forge and foundry workers are urgently needed by the industry.

TSKI! TSKI! WE'RE LOSING THE WAR

Germany's supreme optimist and Goebbels' prize pupil turned up in a prison camp where an Aussie stood guard. The Nazi was invited to listen to radio news reports, the Australian News and Information Bureau says. The news the Nazi heard was strictly wonderful. This was his report to his fellow prisoners: "In 1940 we overwhelmed and defeated the British, but most of them got away through Dunkerque. The Fuehrer has allowed them to land in France again. This time they shall not escape."

SHOE STAMPS GOOD INDEFINITELY

Removal of time limitations that restrict the use of special shoe stamps is announced by OPA. The new provisions apply to all special shoe stamps, except that those issued to Mexican border residents must still be used by consumers within 30 days. Previously, some special shoe stamps—such as those issued as extra rations—had to be used within time limits. The provisions affect only special shoe stamps and in no way involve the validity of regular war ration shoe stamps, either for consumer or trade use.

CAR RESERVES NEAR VANISHING POINT

There are only 20,000 new passenger cars in the country today, OPA announces. The quota of new passenger automobiles available for rationing in September will be 3,000 with another 300 as regional and 300 as national emergency reserves. This is the smallest quota since passenger car rationing began, and a 40 per cent cut from the August quota of 5,000. The new September quota is less than 8 per cent of the September 1943 quota of 40,600 cars.

FOOD CAN BE BAD FOR MORALE—GOERING

The Nazis have apparently discovered that food can be bad for public morale, especially if it has aspects of exhibitionism. Reich Marshal Hermann Goering's newspaper, the Essener National Zeitung, is aware of these dangers and reports in an article obtained by the Office of War Information: "It must be considered bad taste to publicly eat a ham sandwich whose origin is generally suspicious even if nothing illegal can be proved." The eating of fresh fruit in public, now that fruit is "also very scarce" was cited as another instance of bad taste. Nazis are also told that Germans may also become resentful if they observe fellow citizens "strutting along with fat cigars."

OPA LIMITS SECURITY DEPOSITS

From now on landlords may not ask for more than a month's rent in advance in addition to the security deposit (if any) which may be asked of prospective tenants. In other words, a tenant may leave a security deposit, not to exceed ten dollars, for the landlord's use to provide for the recovery of such movable objects as keys or ice trays. But over and above that the tenant may not give more than a month's advance payment of rent.

DRY CELL BATTERY PRODUCTION GROWS

Progress by the dry cell battery industry in its renewed effort to increase production was reported by Army and WPB representatives at a recent meeting. At the same time, the industry was urged to spare no effort in effecting further increases, since production is still about 28 per cent below minimum military and civilian requirements.

65,000 STORES START PAPER DRIVE

Fully 55,000 chain and independent drug stores and 10,000 variety stores are signing a pledge, initiated among themselves, to conserve paper bags and wrapping paper in cooperation with the WPB drive to save wrapping materials. These new pledges are in addition to those which 300,000 chain and independent food retailers throughout the country have already signed in connection with the paper conservation drive.

ROUND-UP

OPA says: If you smoke imported cigars, you will be glad to learn that dollar-and-cent ceiling prices for importers, and wholesalers, and at retail for practically all brands have been established. Consumer prices on Swiss cheese are being reduced nationally by an approximate average of three cents a pound, while the price at the factory level for the product is being increased by an estimated weighted average of 3 1/2 cents a pound, through a reduction of more than 6 cents a pound at the wholesale distributive levels. Authority for all retailers of meat to pre-cube steaks from top or bottom rounds of utility and cutter and canner grades of beef has been granted. Rationing controls have been removed from spiced green tomatoes.

down, and dropped on our hands and knees and peeked through a tiny hole in the side.

A man lay on his back in the small space of the upside-down cockpit. His feet disappeared somewhere in the jumble of dials and rubber pedals above him. His shirt was open and his chest was bare to the waist. He was smoking a cigarette.

He turned his head toward me when I peeked in, and he said in a typical British manner of offhand friendliness, "Oh, hello."

"Are you all right?" I asked, stupidly.

He answered, "Yes, quite. Now that you chaps are here."

I asked him how long he had been trapped in the wrecked plane. He said he didn't know for sure as he had got mixed up about the passage of time. But he did know the date of the month he was shot down. He told me the date. And I said out loud, "Good God!"

For, wounded and trapped, he had been lying there for eight days!

His left leg was broken and punctured by an ack-ack burst. His back was terribly burned by raw gasoline that had spilled. The foot of his injured leg was pinned rigidly under the rudder bar.

His space was so small he couldn't squirm around to relieve his own weight from his paining back. He couldn't straighten out his legs, which were bent above him. He couldn't see out of his little hole. He had not had a bite to eat or a drop of water. All this for eight days and nights.

Yet when we found him his physical condition was strong, and his mind was as calm and rational as though he were sitting in a London club. He was in agony, yet in his correct Oxford accent he even apologized for taking up our time to get him out.

The American soldiers of our rescue party cursed as they worked, cursed with open admiration for this British flier's greatness of heart which had kept him alive and sane through his lonely and gradually hopeless days.

One of them said, "God, but these Linties have got guts!"

It took us almost an hour to get him out. We don't know whether he will live or not, but he has a chance. During the hour we were ripping the plane open to make a hole, he talked to us. And here, in the best nutshell I can devise from the conversation of a brave man whom you didn't want to badger with trivial questions, is what happened.

He was an RAF night lieutenant, piloting a night fighter. Over a certain area the Germans began letting him have it from the ground with machine-gun fire.

The first hit knocked out his motor. He was too low to jump, so—foolishly, he said—he turned on his lights to try a crash landing. Then they really poured it on him. The second hit got him in the leg. And a third bullet cut right across the balls of his right-hand forefingers, clipping every one of them to the bone.

He left his wheels up, and the plane's belly hit the ground going uphill on a slight slope. We could see the groove it had dug for about 50 yards. Then it flopped, tail over nose, onto its back. The pilot was absolutely sealed into the upside-down cockpit.

"That's all I remember for a while," he told us. "When I came to, they were shelling all around me."

Thus began the eight days. He had crashed right between the Germans and Americans in a sort of pastoral no-man's-land. For days afterwards the field in which he lay surged back and forth between German hands and ours.

His pasture was pocked with hundreds of shell craters. Many of them were only yards away. One was right at the end of his wing. The metal sides of the plane were speckled with hundreds of shrapnel holes.

He lay there, trapped in the midst of this inferno of explosions. The fields around him gradually became littered with dead. At last American strength pushed the Germans back, and silence came. But no help. Because you see, it was in that vacuum behind the battle, and only a few people were left.

The days passed. He thirsted terribly. He slept some; part of the time he was unconscious; part of the time he undoubtedly was delirious. But he never gave up hope.

After we had finally got him out, he said as he lay on the stretcher under a wing, "Is it possible that I've been out of this plane since I crashed?"

Everybody chuckled. The doctor who had arrived said, "Not the remotest possibility. You were sealed in there and it took men with tools half an hour to make an opening. And your leg was broken and your foot was pinned there. No, you haven't been out."

"I didn't think it was possible," the pilot said, "and yet it seems in my mind that I was out once and back in again."

NATIONAL PRESS BUILDING WASHINGTON, D. C.

Washington hears that "stoves" in food cans have been developed by two British firms. Compartments in center hold chemicals which will burn when lighted with a cigarette or match.

Gasoline situation will get worse instead of better, say oil officials. Although no talk of smaller rations, quality will be inferior.

Don't let the drastic butter shortage deprive your table of a spread for bread. Vitaminized margarine is the perfect answer. It is nutritious and healthful and can be used in exactly the same ways and proportions as butter.

Fewer canned tomatoes for civilians this Fall. Since they require no special cleaning equipment you should make sure that you can enough for your family's use.

No canned sauerkraut this Fall. Unless you like the barreled variety you'd best can plenty of that, too.

If you're having difficulty getting ice box dishes and covers, try using your real mayonnaise jars to hold that last bit of food for tomorrow's soup. They're very handy and don't require much space either.

Kansas women take a bow! It's been reported that some 30,000 of them are driving tractors and doing other important wheat harvest jobs.

WPB says there will be little hope for new radios for civilians this year.

Population Patterns

As the third year of our participation in the war draws to a close, Pennsylvania's population pattern has assumed a form which it, undoubtedly, will retain until the conflict's end. The shaping of this form began during the two-year period before the war when we called our war effort the National Defense Program. At that time industry was preparing itself for the momentous job of production with which it was faced and the labor demand acted as a magnet to attract population to its locations.

This new population shift was, in many instances, a complete reversal of that which took place during the previous decade and our industrial centers, instead of losing inhabitants to the rural sections, now were beginning to gain.

Population dot maps showing the distribution of inhabitants at 30-year intervals during the 19th and 20th centuries, which were prepared by the State Planning Board of the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce, reflect quite vividly this ever-changing pattern. These maps, on which a dot was placed for each 200 persons, portray the rise and fall of the tide of population in our Northern counties during the lumber boom, in our Northwestern counties caused by the oil industry, in the anthracite coal fields and then in our bituminous coal-producing areas. When looking at the maps in sequence beginning with the oldest, there also appears an ever-increasing concentration of dots in and about our urban centers.

Monday Night Fires Ruin, Home Market

Ardmore Residence and Food Fair Store Swept By Flames

Labor Day night was filled with the screaming of sirens and thousands of dollars worth of valuables were destroyed in two of the most devastating fires which have struck Lower Merion Township in many months.

At the home of Donald G. Brien, 220 St. Georges Rd., Ardmore, fire was discovered about 2:45 A. M. Tuesday. Apparently starting in the first floor library, the flames had gained considerable headway before smoke awakened Mrs. Brien.

The house was completely ruined and Harvey Benson, Lower Merion fire marshal, estimated the overall damage in the neighborhood of $35,000.

Rare editions, a complete record library, a piano, Oriental rugs and silverware were destroyed, but the family's furs and jewelry were saved.

Only the kitchen and the solarium stood unscathed when firemen from Ardmore and Bryn Mawr finally conquered the stubborn blaze after a four-hour battle.

When the family retired at midnight, there was no sign of any trouble, but by the time the fire was discovered, the lower floor was blazing so fiercely that escape was cut off. Mr. and Mrs.

Brien, their son and a niece, Miss Pat Tanner, climbed out a rear window on the second floor and reached the ground via a ladder. Their rescuers were their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. William Doyle.

Unable to return to their home, they are staying temporarily with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Summers, 216 St. Georges Rd.

Two Ardmore firemen, James Jenkins and W. Clarochi, were treated at Bryn Mawr Hospital for minor injuries.

A few hours earlier, at 9:40 P. M., flames destroyed shelves of food and other merchandise at the Food Fair Market, 646 W. Lancaster Ave., Bryn Mawr.

Nearby buildings were threatened by the fire which resisted for more than two hours the efforts of the Ardmore and Bryn Mawr fire companies from Lower Merion Township and the Oakmont and Brookline companies from Haverford Township.

$86,000 worth of smoke

You don't do it with hay, brother!

It costs 86,000 good hard American dollars to lay a smoke screen on a 20-mile beachhead for a single hour.

Worth it?

What would you think if you knew your life depended on reaching that beach without being spotted by the enemy?

You'd be mighty glad that—in this war—everything is being done to give the American soldier the best possible chance to live and win... money no object.

You wouldn't have it otherwise, would you?

Then remember—you've got to do your part by buying and holding War Bonds. Your dollars are needed to help lay the smoke screen... provide the "softening up" bombardment... flatten the deadly pill-boxes.
